Subject: Spori Summit Group 3

Good morning.

We are excited to see you next week for the Spori Summit at the University Hosting House (formerly the University Presidents' house) on Thursday evening starting at 6PM for dinner.

On Friday we will gather again at 8:30AM for breakfast and start our discussions at 9AM. I have attached the paper the your group has been assigned on the Similarity Matters (See attachment). It is anticipated that you will read through the paper and identify the scope of the study, pertinent information and the results of the study. You will discuss this teaching practice and its role in learning. As a group on Friday you will create a presentation and lead a discussion with the Summit participants so we all benefit from your learning. Each group will be sharing specific findings about the practices of Retrieval Practice, Interleaving and Spaced Practice.

The second attachment includes all the papers that will be analyzed and presented.

We look forward to participating with you next week.

A specific itinerary will follow later today.

Sincerely
Shane Ruebush
